Harry Hancock Was In Service With McConnell

McCONNELL STORY: One Harrisburg man has a deep interest in "The McConnell Story," starring Alan Ladd and June Allyson and showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Grand theatre.

He is Henry Hancock. A lot of you know Mr. Hancock, who is employed at the Saxton mine south of Carrier Mills, because he has done a lot of stock car racing at the fairgrounds here in the past.

BACK IN 1949-50 when he was Sgt. Hancock, he knew Capt. Joe McConnell, about whom the picture is filmed, real well. At that time the flier was Lt. McConnell, and Sgt. Hancock was the crew chief for McConnell's F-80 jet fighter plane, being in charge of tak-ing care of the craft in Alaska. He also took care of McConnell's private automobile.

"I don't want to appear to be brasging when I tell you about my a sociation with him; I'm just the period ending Oct. 24 showed proud that I knew the fellow," Han-cock told me. "He was real nice, Keystone Oil Co. made an oil and although he was a great pilot well in the Lower O'Hara at 2862he wasn't the daredevil type. He 66 at its F. E. ONCE McCONNELL was returning to the air field and when he landed he had but four gallons of fuel in his tanks, said Hancock. For a car, four gallons is pretty good, but that jet he was flying consumed 13 gallons a minute. Figure that one down to seconds.

Russia Warned Against New Berlin Blockade

WASHINGTON IP-For the second time in less than a month, the United States, Britain and France have warned Russia against any new move to blockade Berlin.

The warning was sounded in notes delivered to the Kremlin by Allied envoys Thursday. The State Department made the notes public Friday night.

The Western powers are con-cerned about a Sept. 20 agreement signed in Moscow by Soviet Pre-mier Nikolai Bulganin and East German chief Otto Grotewohl. They fear a section of the agreement providing for East German jurisdiction over its own territory and communications may lead to a repetition of the 1949 Berlin
